

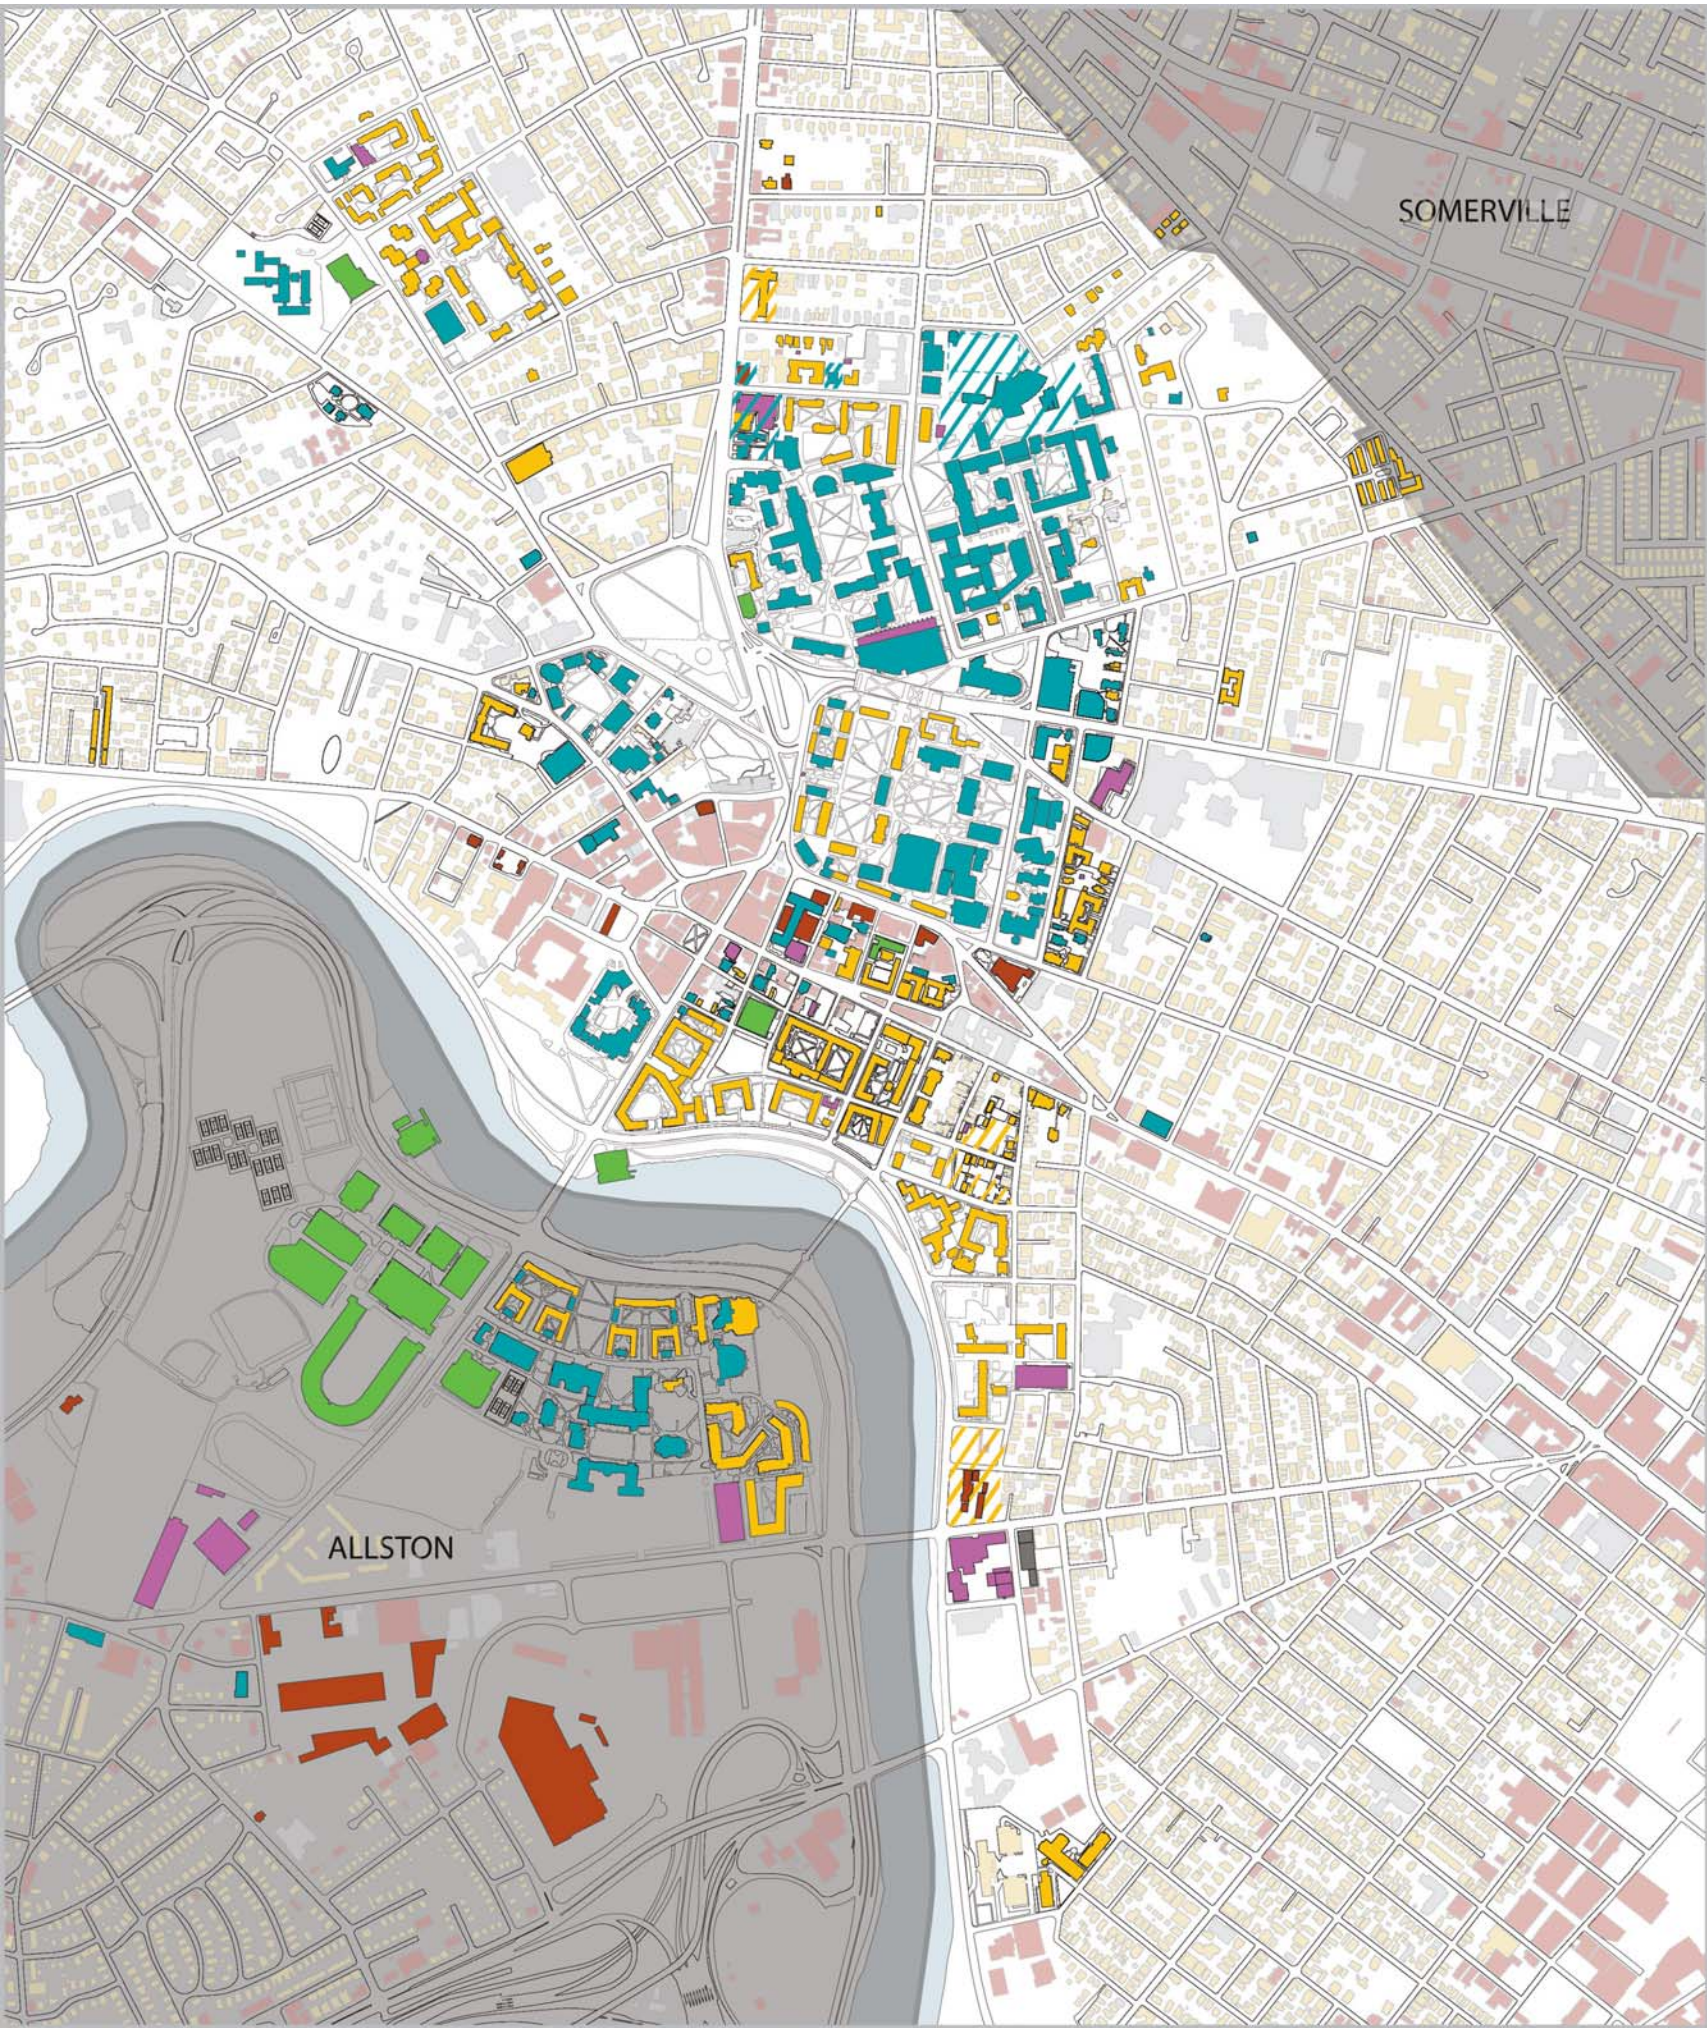

Map 2.1 REGIONAL SCALE

Harvard’s real estate encompasses five non-contiguous campuses in three different municipalities. Like other key institutions in the Boston metropolitan area, Harvard is located within mature urban neighborhoods. In addition, Harvard, MIT and Boston University are adjacent to the Charles River.

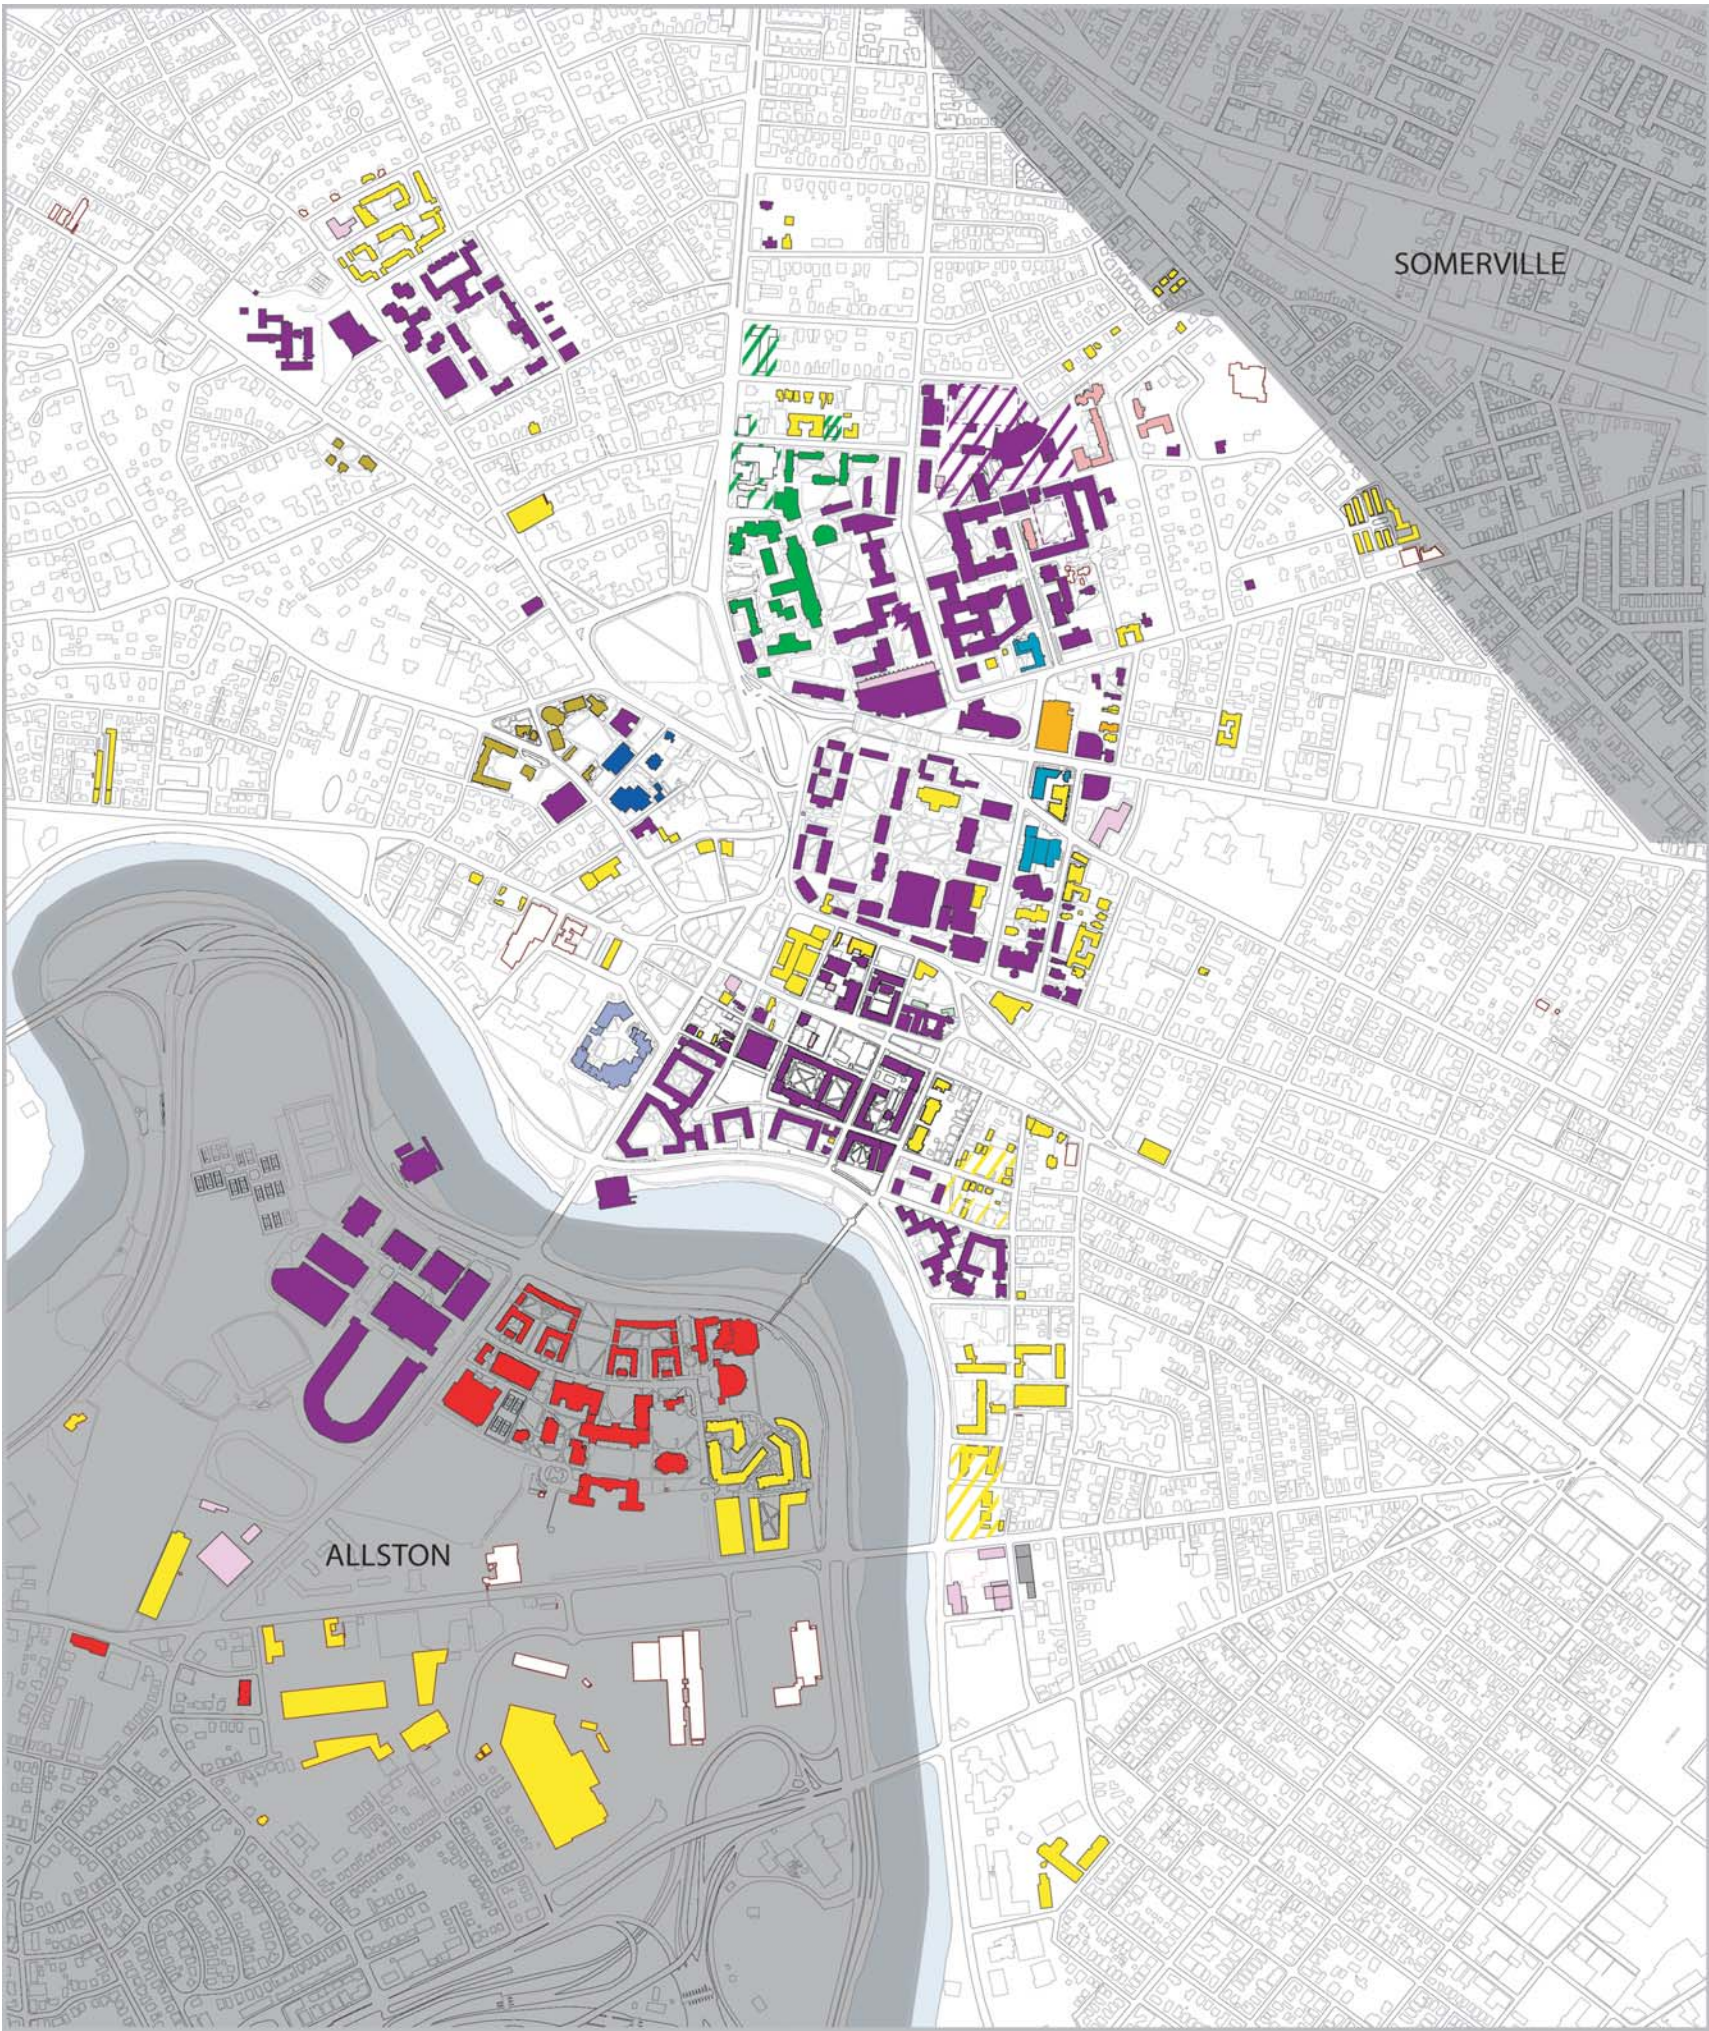

Map 2.2 LAND USE

Harvard is an urban campus where University and urban land uses intermingle, largely at the campus edges where most residential and commercial University functions are located. Innovative planning and design can minimize impacts and enhance opportunities at these campus edges. Appropriate density and height, adequate open space and sensitive architectural design are tools to create positive transitions between institutional and non-institutional uses.

Map 2.3 ADMINISTRATIVE STRUCTURE

Harvard has a long-standing tradition of decentralized planning. Different schools and administrative entities have historically managed their own physical assets. As we move into the future, planning across school boundaries is becoming critical for optimizing University and City resources.

Note: Harvard Medical School is not listed because it does not occupy buildings in the Cambridge or Allston campus.

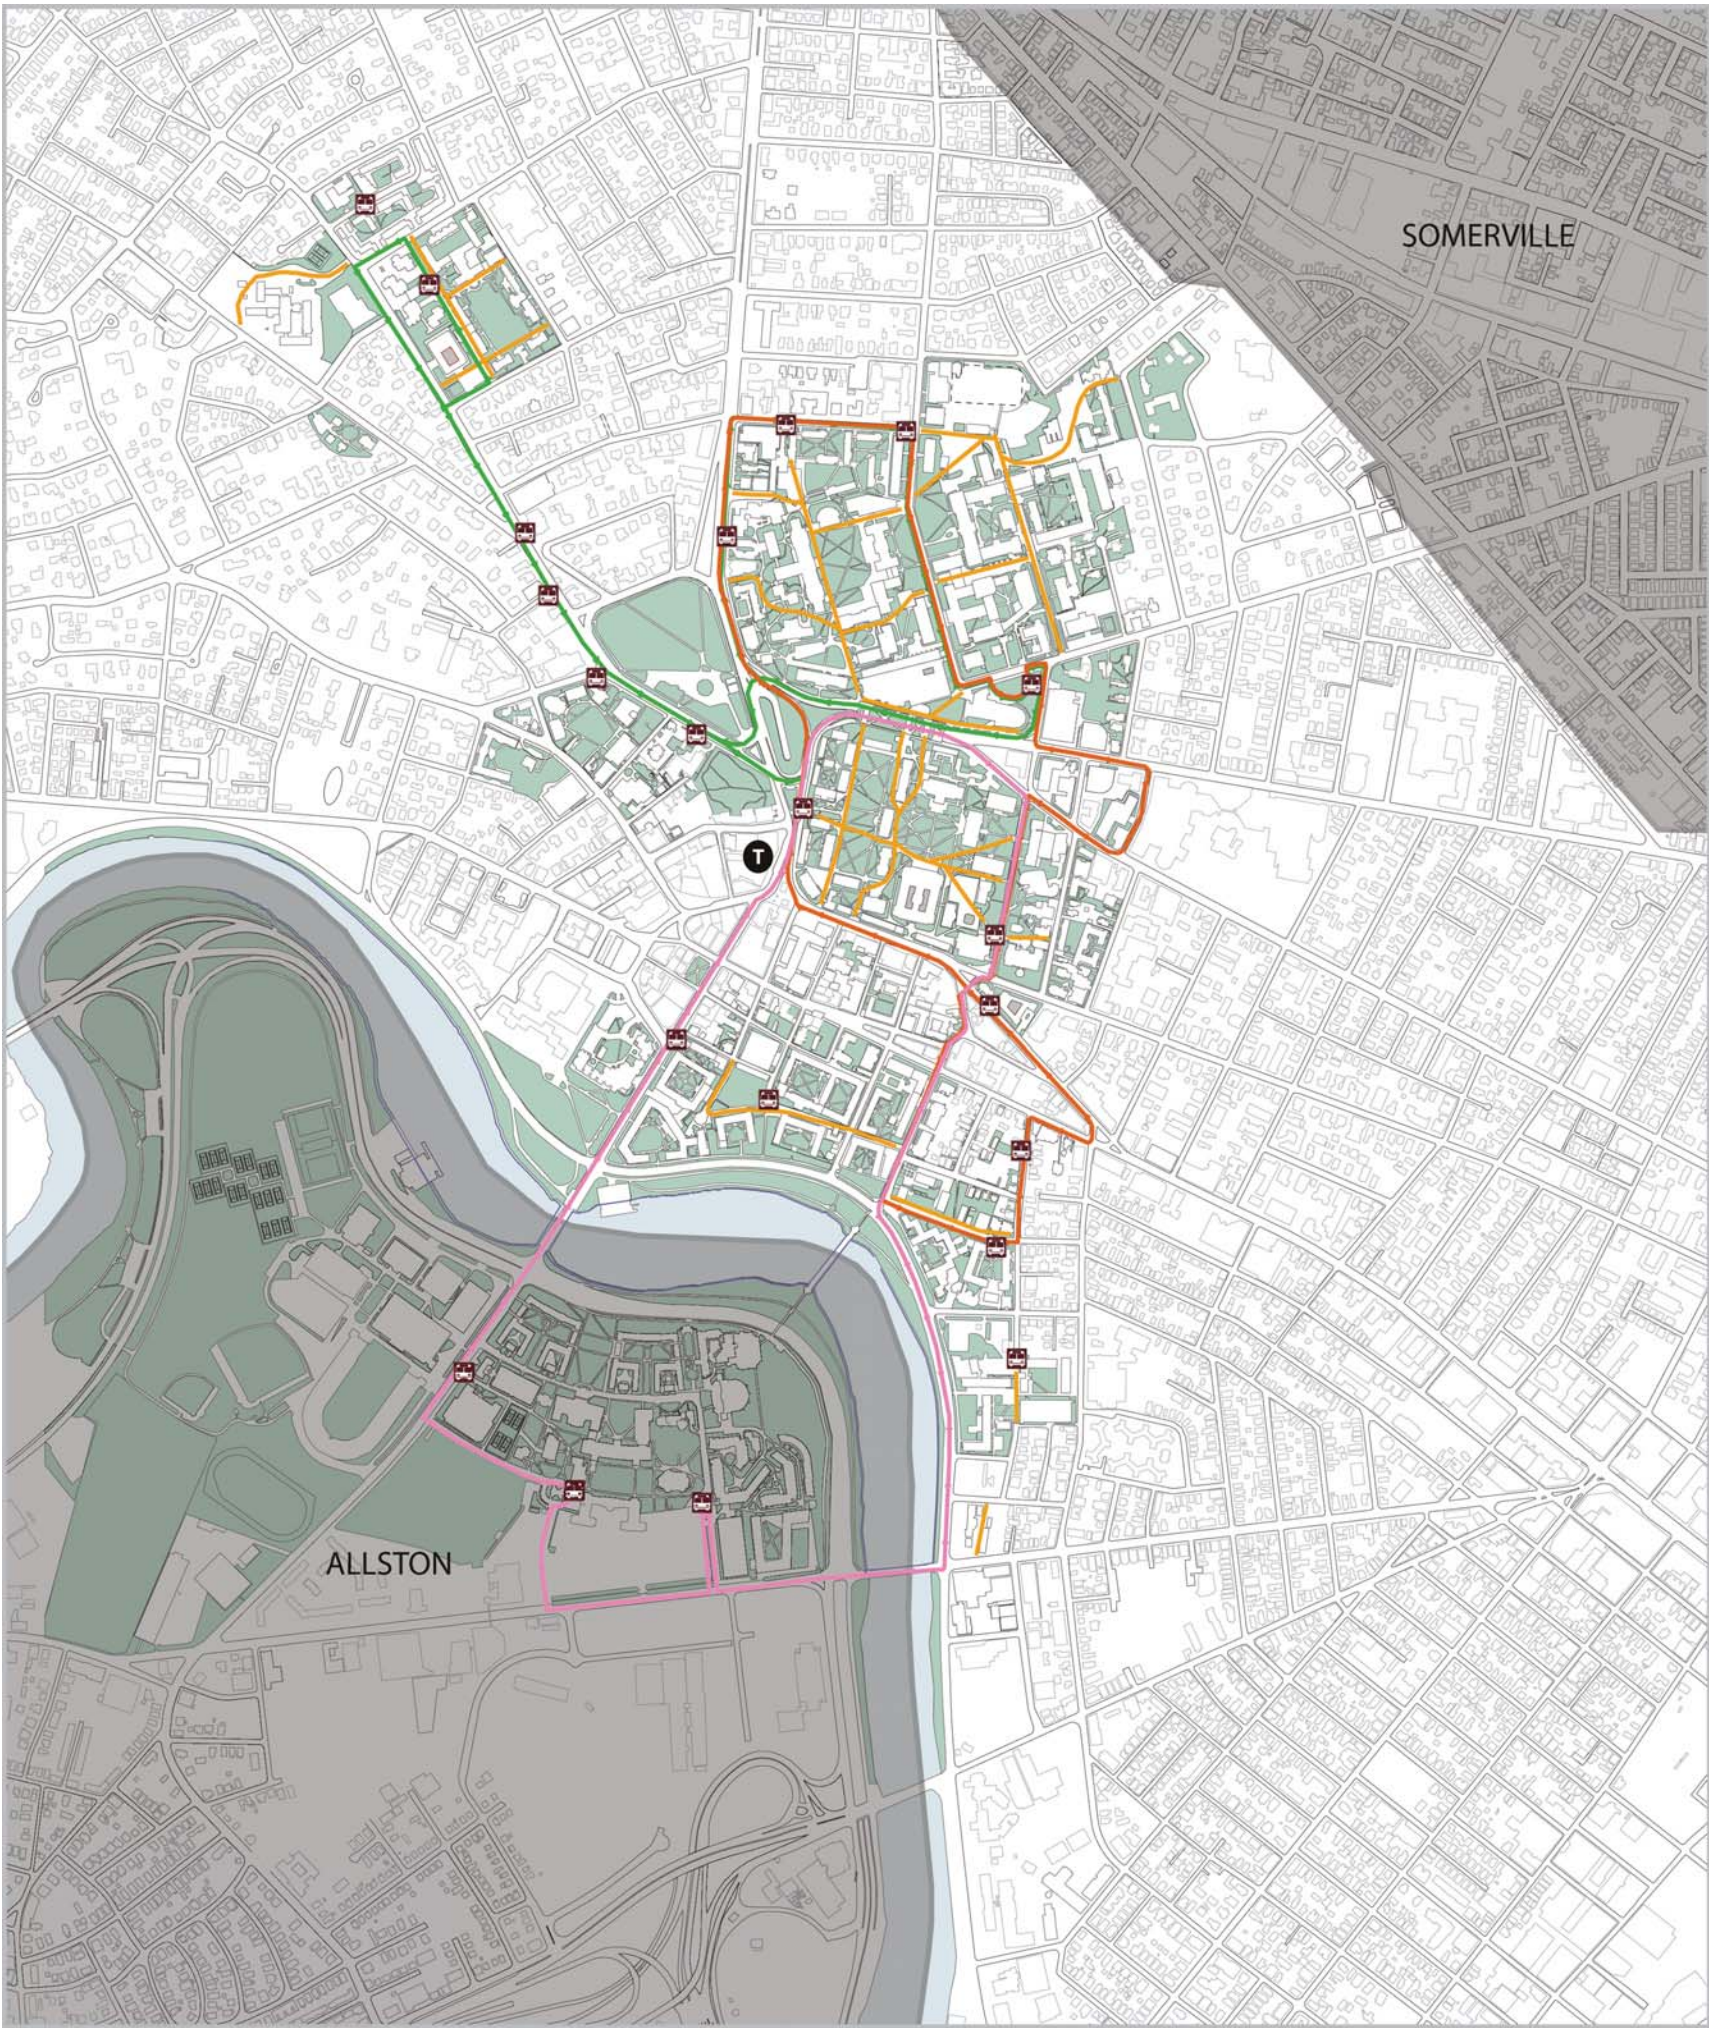

Map 2.4 OPEN SPACE

Harvard's open space in Cambridge is comprised of a diverse collection of quadrangles, courtyards, gardens and pathways that provide the physical core and structure to the campus. This open space network connects to the city street system and contributes to the creation of a vibrant pedestrian-oriented environment shared by city residents and the campus community.
